Management Blamed By Engineers For Greater Share Of Waste In Industry

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—Responsibility for more than fifty percent of the waste in industrial processes which is causing enormous losses to the nation, can be placed at the door of the management and less than 25 percent at the door of labor, declared a report of the American engineering council's committee on elimination of waste in industry made public Friday at a meeting of the council's executive board. The committee was appointed by Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce, when he was head of the council.

Million Unemployed
The report showed that the margin of unemployment amounted to more than a million men; that billions of dollars were tied up in idle equipment; that high labor turnover was a rough index of one of the commonest wastes; and that waste of time and energy and money through duplications of estimates and bids in building trades, ran into millions annually.

Both employer and employee restrict output, it was said. Both capital and labor are blamed for existing abuses but the annual losses through waste by conflicts between them is much less than popularly supposed.

Regulate Employment
From four to five million workers were idle during January and February of this year. In 1921 half a billion dollars will be lost in wages in the building trades, it was said. Nations-wide machinery to obtain continuous information concerning unemployment conditions throughout the country is declared necessary by the report. Means for regulating employment in the principal industries were urged and a nation-wide plan of co-operation between the government, the public, trade associations, the industries, labor, bankers and engineers was outlined.

Seeks Harmony
The waste inquiry was in charge of a committee of sixteen. This was the beginning of a movement by the country's organized engineers, about 200,000 in number, to bring about better industrial conditions and more harmonious relations between capital and labor.

The full report comprises 125,000 words and deals with the deep-seated causes of waste, and does not consider the "present business crisis" due in part to world-wide waste and extravagance caused by the war, as an excuse for temporary experiments, but as an opportunity to point out the need for permanent reform.

Suggests Remedy
The committee outlined the following proposed program of governmental assistance to eliminate waste:

"National industrial information service should be established to furnish more timely, regular and complete information covering current production and consumption and stocks of commodities; a national statistical service should be established covering employment requirements; a national policy regarding public health should be fostered and encouraged; the national program for industrial rehabilitation should be encouraged and should offer opportunities for education and placement to those having physical defects as well as those handicapped because of industrial accidents; a nation-wide program of industrial standardization should be encouraged in conjunction with industrial interests; the government should recognize the necessity for a revision of such federal laws as interfere with the stabilization of industry; a body of principles should be accepted which could be developed for the adjustment and settlement of labor disputes."

SUFFERS BAD FALL TWO DAYS BEFORE FUNERAL OF SON
W. D. Bock in Hospital With Concussion of Brain Sustained in Postoffice
FALLS IN FAINT AFTER HEARING OF ARRIVAL OF BODY OF HIS SON
Remains of War Hero to be Buried in New Albin Saturday

A few hours after receiving word that the body of his son who was killed in action in France, had arrived at New York, W. D. Bock, employee of Martin Brothers, fell in a faint on the floor in the postoffice lobby at 8:30 Thursday night, suffering concussion of the brain.

In Grandview hospital in a semi-conscious state, with the outcome of his injury regarded as uncertain, Mr. Bock will be unable to attend the funeral of his son, Forest W. M. Bock, in New Albin, Iowa, Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Bock received a telegram Thursday telling of the arrival of the body of his son in New York and announcing that the remains would be sent to New Albin, as he had arranged.

Making arrangements to attend the funeral, Mr. Bock stood at a desk in the postoffice lobby at 8:30 Thursday night writing a letter when suddenly he keeled over backward, his head striking the tile floor with terrific impact.

Medical aid was summoned and he was removed in an ambulance to Grandview hospital, where he remains in an unconscious condition all night. In the morning he showed signs of returning consciousness, but still failed to regain his condition or consciousness. He remained in a semi-conscious condition throughout the day. Attending physicians diagnosed the case as concussion of the brain.

Members of Automobile Club Named on Committee

THAT needless accidents and the tendency of a few automobile drivers to disregard the traffic ordinances in the city might be stopped fifty auto owners and members of the Western Wisconsin Automobile club here have been appointed by Chief of Police John B. Webber to serve as voluntary members of a vigilance committee in the city.

The committee as appointed is designed to promote a more law abiding driving public. It is composed of auto drivers who traverse different parts of the city at different times with the idea of collectively covering the city at all times.

The members of the committee are instructed to become familiar with the traffic rules and regulations of the state and city and to report infractions of the same, including traffic violations, to the chairman of the committee or to the chief of police.

Members are requested to sign an enrollment application which is of a voluntary nature, and reserve the right to resign at any time. Members may also be requested to band in their credentials upon the word of the chairman of the vigilance committee or the chief of police.

The applications as prepared for the members request the name and address of the applicant in full, together with information as to whether the person has been arrested and on what charge. The applicants are required to state as nearly as possible which sections of the city they traverse and the hours of the day when they do the most driving.

The oath of allegiance taken by the members is as follows:

"I, _____, realizing the importance of eliminating needless accidents and desiring to assist in the enforcement of state laws and city ordinances, do hereby promise that I will faithfully endeavor to observe and report all infractions of said laws and ordinances, including all traffic violations, and that I will read and become familiar with such laws and regulations, a copy of which it is understood will be furnished me."

Recall Troops As Tulsa City Quiets Down

TULSA, Okla.—Troops on duty here under a proclamation of martial law will be recalled at 3 p. m. Friday unless some untoward incident occurs before that hour, Brigadier General C. F. Barrett announced shortly after a telephone conversation with Governor Robertson at Oklahoma City.

Definite plans for building homes for the thousands of negroes rendered destitute by the burning of the negro quarter are being worked out by a civilian committee of relief. Business men will erect as many houses as needed in the shortest time possible and only the details remain to be worked out.

The list of known dead was placed at 30 today. The list was expected to be increased by deaths of some of the several hundred wounded.

ARTHUR MILLS AND MISS M'KINSTRY RESIGN POSITIONS

Secretaries of Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. to Leave La Crosse Soon
MILLS TO ENTER TRAINING SCHOOL FOR Y SECRETARIES
Miss McKinstry Plans to Return to Home at Beaver Dam

Arthur Mills, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., has resigned his office here and will go to the summer school of the Y. M. C. A. at Lake Geneva. A farewell dinner was given to Mr. Mills at the Stoddard last Tuesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Mills were presented with silverware as a token of the friendly relations between them and the board of directors. No successor to Mr. Mills has been named as yet. T. C. Gerber, physical director, is in charge of the building while C. R. Pieper, president of the board of directors is looking after the affairs of the general secretary's office.

Bart McCormick reviewed Mr. Mills' connection with the Y. M. C. A. which dates back about eight years when he first went to school at W. B. U. and served part time as office clerk in the Y. M. C. A. under Mr. Gran. The following year and five years ago he succeeded Mr. Barrymore as boys' work secretary.

Following Mr. Gran's resignation, Mr. Mills filled the vacancy in the capacity of Acting General Secretary for a period of about a year and a half at which time he was elected General Secretary.

Mr. Mills is leaving a great number of friends in La Crosse in Y. M. C. A. circles and also in numerous organizations in which he took an active part. He leaves here to attend the summer school for Y. M. C. A. officials at Lake Geneva and thereafter to attend the Y. M. C. A. Training school in Chicago.

Miss McKinstry Resigns
Announcement was made today of the resignation of Miss Harriet J. McKinstry, general secretary of the Y. W. C. A. after six years of service with the local association. Miss McKinstry, it is understood, plans soon to leave for her home at Beaver Dam.

The Y. W. C. A. has made noteworthy progress during the administration of Miss McKinstry as general secretary. It was largely as a result of her efforts that the association moved into the town quarters where it better serves the young business women and others who enjoy its conveniences and activities.

It became known today that Miss McKinstry handed in her resignation to the board of directors last January but had remained in the executive position for four months awaiting the selection of her successor.

Who has been elected to succeed Miss McKinstry has not been announced as yet, by the board.

Miss Ruth M. Bischoff, physical director of the Y. M. C. A. is spending her vacation in the east.

BLAINE PROHIBITION ENFORCEMENT BILL READY NEXT WEEK

New Measure Only One-third as Long as Matheson Bill; Eliminate Red Tape
BIG APPROPRIATION BILLS TO BE OFFERED NEXT WEEK
No Additional State Tax Necessary Reports Committee

MADISON, Wis.—Present indications are that the new dry enforcement bill will not be ready for presentation to the legislature before Monday or Tuesday of next week. The new bill, which is being drafted under the supervision of Governor Blaine, is to be a short and simplified measure, under which it is hoped to get a uniform enforcement with the federal government of the dry laws of the state. That there will be clashes between the Anti-Saloon league and friends of the new measure seems almost certain. Assemblyman A. E. Matheson, author of the vetoed bill, in speaking on the floor Thursday, said that the provision for abolishing saloons, booths and stalls in places where drinks are sold was purposely left out of the dry act because of the effect it would have on drug stores. Governor Blaine took a decided stand in his veto against booths and stalls and said that these places should be open so people could see what was going on.

It is said that the new dry bill will be one-third of the length of the original Matheson measure, that all "red tape" will be omitted, and that the effort will be made to harmonize the state law with the Volstead act. No one has been selected as yet to present the bill. It is said, however, that it will probably be offered in the House by Assemblyman Satchell, Dane county, and in the senate by Senator H. A. Huber. A part of the bill has been drafted today but the exact provisions will not be made public until the measure has been gone over carefully.

The big appropriation bills of the session will probably be introduced by the joint finance committee on Monday. The details of these appropriations have been worked out and it only remains to clothe the measure with legal verbiage. The university, normal school and state board of control bills will all be offered at the same time. These are the big appropriation measures of the session.

Members of the finance committee declare that the appropriation bills have been so worked out that no additional state tax will be necessary. On next Tuesday the joint finance committee will hold an executive session on all income taxation bills and it is expected that all three measures, the Dahl bill, the Severson bill and the Conant bill will be reported back to the houses for indefinite postponement. If these bills are killed, and especially the Dahl bill, it means there will be no tax reforms passed at this session of the legislature. While the Dahl bill does not raise as much money as the other measures the bill contains many provisions to reform the tax laws of the state. Unlike the other two bills the Dahl bill provides for the complete repeal of the secrecy clause for taxation of dividends on bank stocks; for the repeal of the personal property offset; and for a revision of general income tax rates to put the income tax rates on a parity with the real estate tax rates as they existed in 1911. There has been some talk of an interim committee to investigate the tax laws of the state and make a report to the next session of the legislature. The close of the session, however, is so close at hand that it is not believed that any legislative committee to make such an investigation will be demanded.

MAJORITY ON PETITION FOR STANDARD TIME

Businessmen Generally Agree to Set Clocks Back and Abandon Daylight Saving Monday
FEW REFUSALS ENCOUNTERED BY COMMITTEEMEN THEY SAY
City Hall, Fire Stations and Schools Will be Left Under New Schedule

THAT the signatures of a majority of the manufacturers, jobbers and retail merchants of La Crosse have been attached to petitions agreeing on Monday, June 6, to abandon the daylight saving schedule and again operate their business establishments on standard time, was the declaration of committeemen who circulated the petitions.

F. L. Koppelman, Harry D. Newburg and other members of the committee said Friday morning that practically every businessman called upon had signed the petition. The conflict of time between the daylight saving schedule and the standard time under which people in the surrounding country who patronize local business institutions are operating is the principal complaint against the new arrangement here.

According to the agreement entered into by the businessmen, they will set back the time of their clocks next Monday morning one hour, and after that time again conduct their business on standard time, conforming to the time in the rural districts and villages and cities surrounding La Crosse.

The city hall, fire stations and schools will continue to operate under the daylight saving schedule in accordance with the mandate of the common council until that body reverses its action, it was said today. Whether the council will repeal the ordinance establishing the daylight saving schedule until October 1 will develop at the regular monthly meeting of the common council on June 10.

PAPER MILL STRIKE AT GREEN BAY ENDS WORKERS ACCEPT CUT

MILLS AGREE TO RECOGNIZE UNION HOURS AND MEN WILL GO BACK ON MONDAY
LOOK FOR SETTLEMENT SOON IN OTHER AFFECTED MILLS
Speedy Labor Peace Predicted by Papermakers' Chief

GREEN BAY, Wis.—The strike of 500 employees of the Northern Paper mills of this city was settled at a conference of mill officials and union officials Thursday night according to announcement Friday.

The men agreed to accept the wage cut of 15 to 25 per cent proposed by the mill March 1. The Northern Paper mills agreed to recognize the union scale of working hours, according to C. H. Sample, general organizer of the International Paper, Pulp and Paper Workers' union, who said that the men would go back to work Monday morning. A list of the names of the men ready to go back to work will be submitted to the mill officials late Saturday. The list is now being made ready.

Predicts Peace Soon
NEW YORK.—F. O. Boyce, of Wausau, Wis., president of the American Pulp and Paper Mills Superintendents, told that body at its annual convention Friday that he was confident that peace would soon come to mills affected by strikes.

"The two great problems that confront the paper industry," he said, "are wood for the manufacture of paper and labor."

"The labor problem has not been entirely adjusted as yet in some of the mills, but I am sure that when the employees realize that there must be a wage readjustment, this will straighten itself out."

"In many of the mills the superintendent is not consulted regarding general policies followed by the company in its relations to its employees and these policies are forced upon him without giving him a hearing as to the justice or practicability of their application. He has to take the entire load of responsibility and abuse of the small town that has taken sides with his striking employees."

Thirty-two artillery horses, released from their corral in the rear of Battery B's armory in State street by an unknown miscreant tramped over the postoffice lawn and a garden adjoining the armory for several minutes at 2 o'clock Saturday morning before rounded up and returned to the corral.

Postoffice clerks distributing mail heard the horses galloping over the lawn and called the battery hostlers, who lost no time in driving the horses back to the stables across the alley. In the meantime, however, the postoffice lawn was damaged by the hoofs of the horses, and garden in the rear of the armory also was damaged.

The identity of the person who released the horses from the corral is unknown. Damage done to the postoffice lawn and the garden across the alley will be repaired.

HARDING PRESENTS DIPLOMAS TO CLASS AT NAVAL ACADEMY

Expresses Hope that Nation Will Never Again be Called Upon to Go to War

ANNAPOLIS, Md.—A hope that the nation would never be called upon to fire a gun in war again was expressed by President Harding Thursday in presenting diplomas to the graduating class at the Naval Academy.

The president added a promise that while he was president the young men graduating today never would have to go to war except in a course that squared with American conscience.

"A good deal is said nowadays," said Mr. Harding, "about preparing for defense. I know nothing nobler in this world than the defense of one's own country. That is an inherent thing in man, planted in the human breast by God Almighty. There would not be any civilization today if men were not willing to give their all for its preservation."

"But the preservation of the established order is one thing, and it is highly essential, while crusading for a new order is quite another thing, sometimes most nobly inspired, sometimes most ill advised. I can believe the ideal for our country is a sensible blend of the maintenance of the established order and the enthusiasm of the crusader."

"I want to say to you, young men, I hope you'll never be called upon to draw a sword nor fire a gun except in the expression of the customary amity and respect. And I promise you that while I am president you'll never be called on to fire a gun except you can do it with the American conscience, with which you can answer to God."

"I do not want to be misunderstood. I want an American unafraid, but I want you to help make a republic of conscience, a republic of sympathy and a republic of high ideals."

BOMB EXPLOSION PROBE IS ORDERED

Fatal Accident on Army Plane Will Be Subject of Investigation

WASHINGTON, D.C.—A complete investigation of the circumstances surrounding the bomb explosion on Tuesday at the Aberdeen, Md. proving grounds, which resulted in the death of five persons and injury of ten others, was directed by Secretary Weeks on Wednesday in orders to Inspector General Chamberlain.

Two Investigations
The investigation will begin immediately, as will one to be conducted personally by J. Mayhew Vainwright, assistant secretary of war, Mr. Vainwright left here on Wednesday for Aberdeen to collect evidence. Previously, Gen. Williams, chief of ordnance, had dispatched Maj. William A. Borden and Capt. C. H. Roberts to the scene to make an investigation, and the commanding officer at Aberdeen had appointed a local board for the same purpose.

Maj. Borden brought the first details of the disaster to the department on Wednesday in an oral report to Gen. Williams. While he did not attempt officially to fix the responsibility, he advanced a theory of the cause of the explosion. The facts upon which he based his conclusions are regarded by ordnance as exceptional.

"The plane had been loaded with four bombs," Maj. Borden said, "that on rack No. 1, at the right hand end of the plane, had dropped from the rack once. An examination showed no apparent defect either of rack or bomb and the bomb was replaced. Then it dropped a second time."

Meanwhile the motor had been started and the airplane was being turned around. The blast from the propeller of the machine started the propeller of the bomb revolving. A certain number of revolutions of the bomb's propeller releases a striking rod or plunger. The propeller had apparently turned that point when the tail skid, a piece of metal attached to the tail of the airplane, swung around and struck the propeller of the bomb, a most extraordinary occurrence.

"The blow evidently was all that was required to drive the plunger into the percussion cap attached to the fuse. The propeller had apparently turned to a point where the blow would have released the plunger. The explosion followed."

Safety devices on the other three bombs prevented their discharge, in the opinion of Maj. Borden, although they were within fifteen feet of the explosion.

The word "whisky" is from a Celtic word meaning "water of life."

GOD IN HEAVEN

O LORD God of our fathers, art not Thou God in heaven and on earth? Thou art the King of the kingdoms of the earth, and in Thine hand is there no power and might, and that none is able to withstand Thee; art not Thou, our God?—2 Chronicles 22: 6, 7.

Never Retreat

THE bill to abolish the state board of education has been treated with mild unconcern, as embodying a thought too logical to require vehement protest. Its defeat was taken for granted with a certainty which prescinded the one possible danger of its passage.

The place of the state board of education in the upward and outward spread of education is not an indefinite one, nor has it failed to give a good account of itself. That it might be improved is a thought that has found expression in the formulation of proposed legislation, probably lost through failure of those interested in the subject to agree upon all essential details, but even as it now exists it represents a forward step to retrace which would connote gross ignorance and folly.

With a decentralized educational system we have the advantages of the special efforts concentrated by each department for its own success, the ambition and pride of achievement which actuate the individual, but this carries with it rivalries for financial support, consideration of the welfare of separate units of education rather than of the common welfare of education as a whole supported and pursued in proper proportion, lack of disinterested and balanced criticism, of authoritative means of establishing and enforcing educational policy, and the competitive tendency toward harmful antagonism.

Co-operation and co-ordination brought about through the state board of education can be made to overcome many of these difficulties, and has done so to a large extent. There has been the notable refusal of a single department to enter into this co-operation, but with the arrival of a new head to this department the difficulty should be remedied. While the struggle for funds may have created some dissensions, the other units have co-operated generally along broad and useful lines.

As an agency free from the special ambitions of the various separate departments, viewing all of them impartially as composite of its common concern, the state board of education in its budget activities is enabled to measure in just proportion the values against the costs of the several departments, to study the contributions of each to the sum total of social and economic welfare, to gather information upon which to base suggestions and recommendations touching what should be the state's educational policy. True, it lacks the authority to command, but it has the power to possess and convey knowledge of all phases of the educational problem—knowledge which is indeed power, though not authority. Its tools are examination, inquiry, analysis, criticism. Its raw product is information which can be used, but can not be misused, because anyone, as for instance the legislature, can test it. It is making substantially for co-operation, for co-ordination, and for an education policy which is neither blind to many tomorrows nor unconscious of the swiftly growing importance to civilization of thorough-going education, as wide as the suffrage, and as complete and liberal as the political liberties which, without it, may be more a menace than a blessing. A people educated only to the point at which the individual knows his own rights but does not appreciate the rights of others, only to where men striving for their individual well-being do not understand that where the welfare of the commonwealth is ignored that of the individual will be lost, only to the point of self-service, leaving public service as the pawn of politicians, is not a safe custodian of freedom. "Educational policy" is a simple term, but it contains the future of civilization. We must be educated up to a social consciousness which grasps in true proportion all the balancing phases and relationships of both liberty and responsibility. With chaos at the world's heels, no prescient state dare abandon such agencies as it possesses to turn the searchlight of inquiry and knowledge upon the course of education.

Many hoped the Skogmo bill would pass. Some thought that even a better measure could be secured. We wanted one that would save for education all the merits of the decentralized system and at the same time provide in a more authoritative way the advantages of well-balanced support of education as a single program carrying out far-sighted policy. But if we can not have more, surely, having come thus far, we will accept no less than has already been attained.

Bavaria and France

DISCUSSING the reported anxiety of Britain and Italy for discontinuance of the allied army of occupation along the Rhine and the removal of the twenty-six per cent customs barrier which has been enforced since the armistice, an American dispatch reports the French as opposed to the change "until Germany has given added proofs of its sincere intention" to carry out its treaty obligations. "The unwillingness of Bavaria to disarm" is said to be one of the big reasons why the French government insists on maintaining the "sanctions" along the Rhine. That last must cause some folks on the inside to hide a small smile up their sleeves, if they have not forgotten the tactics of France immediately after the armistice. At that time, it will be recalled, France made energetic efforts to split off Bavaria from Berlin and the rest of Germany, as the nucleus of a semi-independent Rhine state under French tutelage. The swollen Bavarian military forces—orgesch and einwohnerwehr—which are now doing duty as reasons why France is afraid of Germany, are products of this period. They were encouraged by France as the troops that were to make good the Bavarian secession. Berlin made as serious efforts as it could, no later than last March, to persuade the Bavarians to disarm, but failed because, it was reported, Bavaria felt reasonably sure that France would remain conveniently blind to her army. And so it proved. It was almost the only violation of the treaty—even its smallest terms—which France did not point out and condemn in notes of the strongest temper. The indication that France wanted a strong Bavaria defying Berlin seemed patent on the face of events. And now the strong Bavaria, refusing to disarm, appears in the role of a danger to France that makes occupation of the Rhine region imperative. Statesmen apparently credit public opinion with a very short memory.

Two firemen were overcome by heat and smoke and one was seriously cut by glass in a $30,000 fire that yesterday afternoon completely destroyed the Clark and Clark livery barn, 322 South Fifth street. Aside from seventeen horses in the barn at the time the blaze was discovered, nothing was saved, the building being a complete loss and over forty carriages and sleighs going up in smoke. The fire was discovered at 4:15 p. m., but not extinguished until late at night.

HOLDING THE CLAIM

By FREDERICK HART

"I've never eaten such delicious waffles!" exclaimed Stephen Hartridge as he gazed regretfully at a clean-sweet plate. "Do tell me, Mrs. Ward, how you manage to get them so light and crisp?"

Mrs. Ward leaned on her prize boarder. Stephen Hartridge was a young mind engineer who had been sent by a great corporation into the country to investigate the mineral resources of the region; he was young and good looking, and there had been some competition among the keepers of boarding houses for the honor—and profit—of his trade. Stephen had tried them all, and after one trial at Mrs. Ward's had remained as a permanent guest. He lived down at his little shack, where he spent his time making out reports and testing soils and unpromising looking rocks; but for his meals he never failed to report to Mrs. Ward promptly on the dot. His remark about the waffles was but one of many admiring comments which he had given.

"Bless you, Mr. Hartridge. I don't make them waffles. I'm no hand to cook. I just run the place and see that everybody gets served. It's my daughter Mary that's the cook. She can take a little flour and some milk and an egg or so and make you think you're sitting right at your mother's own table."

"Really? Why haven't I met this paragon of the kitchen? You are selfless, Mrs. Ward."

From another man the implied request might have made Mrs. Ward angry, but her favorite boarder could do no wrong.

"You just set where you are, sir, and I'll ask her to come in," she replied genially. Then calling to the back of the house:

"Mary! Oh, Mary! Come here—a spell!"

"Yes, mother," replied a voice. In a moment the door swung open and Mary entered. Stephen rose from his seat and waited expectantly.

"Mary, this is Mr. Hartridge, the engineer down at the river shack," beamed Mrs. Ward. "An this is my daughter. Mr. Hartridge—the one that makes them waffles you like so much."

Mary blushed and laughed delightedly. Stephen Hartridge looked at her more closely. Above the shrouding apron that covered her from shoulders to ankles he saw a roguish face, lighted by her smile, with two merry blue eyes and curling light hair that even the hankerchief knotted about it could not entirely keep in order. And she, as she looked at his sun-browned countenance and saw his six feet of strength and poise, felt that for the first time in her life she had met a real man. But the thoughts in both their minds were not expressed. Stephen said:

"I like your waffles so much that I couldn't resist the temptation to cry 'Author! Author!'"

"Just so you don't ask me to make a certain speech," she laughed. "I'm sure I don't mind appearing as a bowing angel. And she suited the action to the word."

Stephen was delighted. He had not expected her to understand his theatrical allusion, but she not only understood it but accepted it as a compliment. He loved her for it. And he was right along any time you feel like it. That was the beginning of their acquaintance. Stephen found Mary delightful. She was a complete loss and over forty carriages and sleighs going up in smoke. The fire was discovered at 4:15 p. m., but not extinguished until late at night.

COLLEGE BOYS EAT / RACES CAUSE MANY PAINS IN STOMACHS

"What does a good appetite mean?" Dad asked Bob.
"A number of things," replied "Pop," laying aside his newspaper. "When I was in college the boys I chummed with held an eating race about once a month. We would take all kinds of eats up to one of our rooms, and start. The one who could eat longest was the winner."
"Before each race some of us would take a long hike through the woods near school; others would go to the gym for stiff work-outs. A couple more would go for a long row on the river. In short, we would do everything and anything to exert ourselves and work up terrible appetites."
Then came the pains.
"So a good appetite can be taken to mean that you've been giving yourself a square deal physically."
"But, then, after every one of those eating contests it was a rare thing when the whole bunch wasn't sick in bed with aches in the stomach."
"It was all the result of our foolishness; for we were very foolish to stuff and stuff and stuff our stomachs with all that grub, mouthful after mouthful. Now that I look back on it I'm surprised we all didn't die of indigestion."
"Anyhow, after about the third race I learned my lesson and since then I've been very careful not to over-load when I eat."

Eat Moderately
"The way to do is to eat moderately—just enough to relieve the pangs of hunger and no more."
"I've noticed that lately you've been more careful about your food, too, Bob. You seem to be chewing it more and not bolting it like you used to."
"Yes," replied Bob. "They told me at school that a fellow should eat slowly to get the best from his food. I'm eating more vegetables than I used to, too—have you noticed?"
"I have, and I'm glad you are, for vegetables never did hurt a healthy young fellow like you, Bob."

Record of One Day
BY DR. WILLIAM E. BARTON
In the years of his active life he had read widely and bought many books. He valued them highly. They overflowed the bookcases, and several hundred of them were piled up in the attic.

When he died the several members of his family selected such books as they cared for, but the bulk of that portion stored in the attic remained. A dealer in second-hand books was sent for, and the family awaited with interest his offer.

He offered $10 for the lot.
"But the books must be more valuable than that! Think what they cost!"

"Their original cost is of no consequence. Ten dollars is all they're worth."

"There are some expensive medical books."

"They go to the paper mill."

"What about the scientific treatises?"

"They are valuable only as showing what men once thought."
"The theological books?"
"Every one of them obsolete."
"Then where do you see even $10 of value in the lot?"

"There are certain of the books that have a value for men interested in the progress of particular subjects. But the really valuable things for our purpose are the bundles of old newspapers."

This was surprising information. But it was correct. The only things of permanent value in that collection of books, gathered a generation before, was that which gave, each in its own hurried and superficial fashion, the history of one day.

Life has to be lived by the day. One of the most important things to learn about it is the value in it of one day, and the importance of making its history creditable.

CHEWING GUM BILL OF NATION EXCEEDS FUNDS FOR MISSIONS

GRAND FORKS, N. D.—A theological seminary for the English Lutheran Synod of the Northwest will be erected in Fargo, Bismarck or this city, the executive committee, announced.

Officers for three conferences elected Thursday included those of the Wisconsin conference, Dr. K. H. Gebhard, Kenosha, president; Rev. C. A. Kippis, Waterloo, secretary, and J. W. Jomor, Milwaukee, treasurer.

More money is spent in America for chewing gum in one year than is given by all Protestant denominations in America for foreign missions in a similar period. Rev. J. F. Marlette, pastor of the Church of the Redeemer, Minneapolis, said here today in addressing the convention body of the English Lutheran Synod of the Northwest.

He declared the chewing gum bill for the past year was $16,000,000 while the missions got $12,000,000.

BILL TO REGULATE JITNEY BUSSES IS VETOED BY BLAINE

No Justification for Perry Bill
Declares Governor in Message

MADISON, Wis. — Governor Blaine on Friday submitted a veto of the Perry "bus bill" to the assembly. This bill would have placed all motor buses and jitneys which run in competition with street railways under the jurisdiction of the railroad commission and require bonds that would virtually mean the abandonment of such lines. Governor Blaine stated that Wisconsin has spent $12,000,000 on its highways in the last ten years and that the people were entitled to receive any returns possible from such investment in better transportation. "My objection to this bill," said Gov. Blaine, "is fundamental. Jitneys and buses may be operated by anyone upon the public highways and streets, and therefore there is no opportunity to create a monopoly. Free competition prevails, and thus rates and services are regulated by natural law of competition.

"It is quite different with respect to a street railway, an inter-urban railway or a railroad. When either of these occupies a territory, there is no opportunity for a competitive system to come into that territory. There is a limitation on the number of street railways or interurban lines that may occupy the field for transportation and so the transportation companies hold the field against all others; and the reason for regulating them is because of the fact that they possess a monopoly, affording them the right, in the absence of regulation, to arbitrarily discriminate, grant rebates and other special favors, charge an excessive fare, and give inadequate service. The legislature therefore, wisely provided for the regulation of such monopolies.

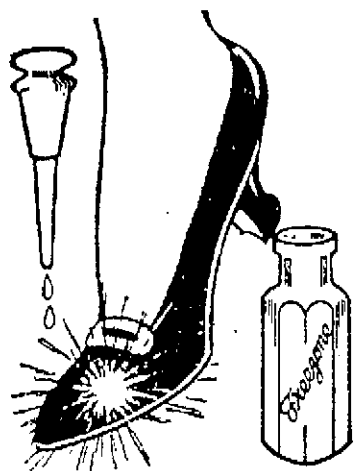

"I know of no justification for the regulation of this business in its field of operation where there is free and untrammelled competition, except to provide for the protection of the public as to health, life, and limb; and when the state has gone that far in affording such protection, it has gone as far as it ought to go, until the time comes when such business becomes a monopoly.

"My objection, therefore, to this bill is that it undertakes to regulate in a field where free competition serves the public welfare best."

HUGHES APPROVES FEDERATION OF CENTRAL AMERICA

WASHINGTON. — Formal endorsement of the Central American confederation of states was voiced Thursday by Secretary Hughes in an address at a luncheon in his honor given by Maximo H. Zepeda, Nicaraguan foreign minister. Mr. Hughes said that if the proposal for the confederation were acquiesced in by all the peoples concerned, it would, in the opinion of this government, be a happy result.

Chinese Make Our Hair Nets
Hair nets to the value of $8,000,000 were imported last year whereas a few years ago it was but a few thousands. Most of the hair nets are manufactured in China of human hair. The better grade nets are made from American prepared hair, shipped to China, where it is fashioned into the nets and returned to this country. The lower grades are made of Chinese hair, bleached and then dried, after which operation they lose a great deal of their natural luster. They are all manufactured by hand on forms.

Upon investigation it was found this sleuthing personage was none other than Tom Moore.

DRY LAW GETS HARD BLOW IN COURT DECISION

Volstead Act Held to Repeal Former Revenue Statutes Whose Penalties Were Heavier

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The enforcement of prohibition received a hard blow on Wednesday when the United States supreme court held that the Volstead act, which repeals former internal revenue laws, was not to be applied to the penalties under the Volstead act. Dry leaders, including the officials of the Anti-Saloon league, admitted at once that hereafter prosecutions would have to be brought entirely under the Volstead act, whose penalties are not so severe as those in the old revenue laws.

Old Laws Repealed

The court decided that the former internal revenue statutes were repealed by the Volstead act, even though they did not happen to be inconsistent with the newer law. Under the Volstead act, liquor manufactured after the date of the repeal of the old laws can be taxed, but the old laws could not be applied to liquor manufactured before the date of the repeal. Dry leaders, including Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon league, found comfort in the decision that taxation could be applied to liquor manufactured after the date of the repeal. He said more than $25,000,000 was involved in this decision.

The supreme court's opinion was based on an appeal by the government in the case of Boaz Yuzonovich and Cousin Boaz Yuzonovich. They were accused of defrauding the government of the revenue tax of not having the sign "registered distillery" on their building, of not giving the bond required by the old law and of making mash unlawful.

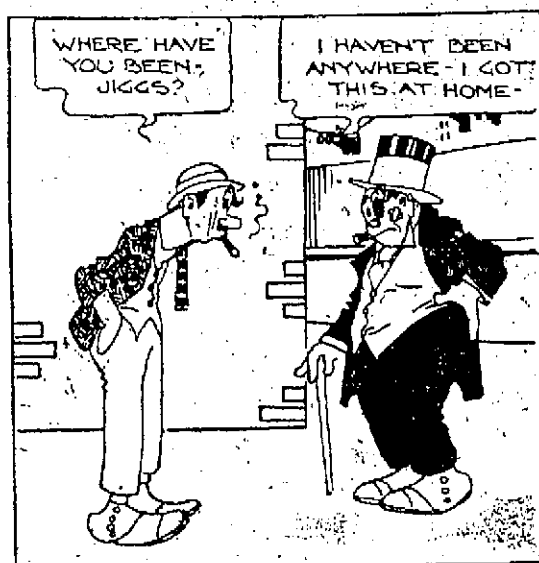

The court reviewed the tax laws covering intoxicating liquors before the eighteenth amendment was adopted, and discussed elaborately the question as to whether or not the former statutes were still in force.

TEN PER CENT RENT CUT PREDICTED IN MILWAUKEE BY FALL

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Rents in Milwaukee will be cut ten per cent before September 1, W. D. Harper, city building inspector, said Thursday. Building is from 300 to 400 per cent greater than in any year since 1916, according to Mr. Harper. Architects are favoring the construction of duplex flats. These factors, Mr. Harper believes, will bring about the drop in rents. The duplex flats, it has been proven, can be constructed at only slightly greater cost than a structure which will house a single family.

FREIGHT CUT NEAR AS PAY IS SLASHED

Harding Learns Railroads Voluntarily Offered to Draft New Schedule; Order 12 Pct. Reduction

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Revision of many freight rates is in process, President Harding was informed on Wednesday during a conference with members of the interstate commerce commission.

The president called at the office of Chairman Clark of the interstate commerce commission after announcement of the railway reduction by the railroad labor board.

It was learned authoritatively that the commissioners reviewed with him what they are doing to adjust rates, which Harding believes must precede a return to prosperity.

Made Voluntarily

Harding was told the revisions of rates are being made voluntarily through concerted action between the commission and the railroads.

The president expressed interest in what was being done to modify rates on fruit, which Pacific coast interests say are so high that fruit can not be shipped to the eastern markets. He was assured this phase of the rate problem is now informally before the commission.

It is unusual for a president to call on a subordinate government official. The usual procedure is to call the official to the white house. President Wilson frequently broke this precedent by calling on cabinet members, but this is the first time Harding has done so.

The visit was taken as a forerunner of an announcement of the complete plan of the administration for rehabilitation of the nation's transportation system.

It has been insisted that the administration had a complete plan, but that the railroad labor board and interstate commerce commission, both judicial bodies, must act before any announcement can be made.

May Pay Back Debt

It was learned that the plan com-

templated rate cuts and at the same time as much aid as the government can extend to roads under present circumstances.

The wage cut announced at Chicago will reduce railroad operating costs $400,000,000 per year.

In addition Harding is considering payment to the roads of about $500,000,000 which the government admits it owes as result of the operations under federal control.

The railroads claim the government's debt is $1,500,000,000, but the government had admitted less than half of this.

FIVE RENT CUTS ORDERED BY BOARD

State Rail Board Acts in Milwaukee Cases on Complaints of Tenants

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Five rent reductions were ordered in Milwaukee on Wednesday by the railroad commission in decisions handed down to the Milwaukee rent bureau.

In the case of John D. Clarkson against Jules M. Barmantier, the rent of the residence at 340 Prospect avenue, was ordered reduced from $200 a month to $165, dating from May 2.

Other reductions were: State vs. Alexander and Dora Kaplan, decision of April 8, 1921, rescinded and rent of 2709 Wells street, fixed at $60, instead of $65 a month; William J. Berg vs. Carl Manning, rent of attic flat at 494 Thirtieth avenue, fixed at $10 instead of $15; Alex J. Murphy vs. George Bockendorf, rent of lower flat at 1310 Achilles place fixed at $48 instead of $53 from March 1, and the rent of the upper flat at 508 Chambers street, owned by Alois H. Placke, reduced from $45 to $41, dating from March 5.

ASSEMBLY BALKS AT $10,000 BILL FOR EXPERTS' SERVICES

Refuses Appropriation for Assistance in Drafting Teachers' Pension Law

MADISON, Wis.—Appropriation of $10,000 to pay for expert services in drafting the new $1,000,000 teachers' retirement fund bill was refused by the joint legislative investigation committee which made a study of the pension fund condition during the past two years, when the assembly voted 50 to 23 to non-concur in the committee bill. Reconsideration was at once moved by Assemblyman Atcherson.

Charge of fraud on the part of the committee in incurring this debt was made by Assemblyman Robert Caldwell of Columbia county. He declared that the expenses filed with the secretary of state showed that only $4,600 of the $5,000 granted by the 1910 legislature had been expended and that according to this report over $500 was still available.

When it was brought out that $100 a day had been paid H. L. Ekern, an attorney, for his services, and $50 a day for the services of another expert, the lower house made up its mind not to grant the appropriation and voted down three attempts to have the vote postponed until next week to give the committee time to explain its bill. The cost of these services has not yet been filed with the secretary of state.

Assemblyman Dahl, administration leader, urged nonconurrence of the bill on the ground that the committee had exceeded its appropriation by 200 per cent, and was deserving of no more consideration than any department of the state government.

"We should start in with members of the committee and do some disciplining if necessary," he said.

It was pointed out by lawyer members that the bill would have to be paid despite any unwillingness on the part of the assembly. A just claim to the pay for their services would be had by the experts hired by the committee, they said.

FANS' HOPES FOR $1 PRESCRIPTIONS GO A-GLIMMERING

Senate Lays Over Bill to Limit Prices Charged by the Physicians

MADISON, Wis.—Hopes of the prescription fans for one dollar liquor permits, as proposed in the Meisinger bill passed by the assembly, were dashed on the rocks in the senate late Thursday when the upper house by a vote of 10 to 9 sent the measure to indefinite postponement.

Wets and dries united in their support of the bill when it was before the assembly.

Senators felt that they were overstepping their bounds acting upon such a measure which, according to Senator Rothe would be stillifying. "They'll soon regulate the price of pills, and the price of having a tooth filled, if this bill passes," he said.

The final touch was added when Senator Ridgway, doctor, said that as far as he was concerned it made no difference what charge was asked for prescriptions, that he was willing to write them for fifty cents or even nothing if necessary.

Several senators at once expressed their desire to get better acquainted with their colleague.

GRAPE PRICES HIGHER

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif.—Opening prices of wine grapes for this year were set Friday at $50 to $90 a ton, compared with $40 to $50 a ton in pre-prohibition days, by the California Grape Growers' exchange. This represents an increase of $20 a ton for grapes with high colored juice and of $5 a ton for other varieties. The increase is due to increased demand for grapes for grape juice, grape syrup and the making of sacramental and medicinal wine and to crop shortage caused by frost, according to exchange officials. They estimated this year's crop in California at 275,000 tons valued at $20,000,000.

Thin Girls Need Not Apply

In Algeria and Tunisia the thin girl has no place. Many Arab brides are fattened up for three months before their marriage. They eat quantities of Cous-Cous, a sort of semolina steamed soup and mixed with butter. The men of Tunisia also insist upon plump wives; in fact the plumper they are the prouder the men are of them. And perhaps it is because the women are proud of their plumpness that it has a certain charm, the charm of rounded smooth limbs and glossy hair and general sleek look.

A CREATOR OF COMFORTS

Old Days I Fulfill
Safe to Buy
Take a Pencil
The Same Biscuits

AN EDITORIAL ON ADVERTISING

Advertising, America's mightiest business force, speaks:

"If you want to realize just what I have done to better living conditions, take paper and pencil and list the many conveniences you enjoy today that were unknown a generation or so ago.

"Consider food products for example:

"Contrast the ease of preparing a modern meal with the tedious meal-time tasks of grandmother's day, those of you who long for 'old days' and old ways."

In those "good old days" practically every process in the preparation of food—from roasting coffee to the curing of meats—had to be done at home.

It involved almost endless work. Today, through closely following my messages as they appear in the columns of the newspaper, the daily term of kitchen service is shortened by many hours.

"Refer to your list and note the multitude of advertised helps to quick and wholesome menu-making—breakfast foods, canned vegetables providing all sorts of 'out-of-season' delicacies, innumerable dainty crackers, biscuits, breads and cakes, delicious meats, an attractive array of appetizing desserts—all made available through the power of advertising.

"I — ADVERTISING — promote distribution by creating a demand for the manufacturer's or merchant's products. Distribution affords easy access to your favorite merchandise. This simply means that should you move your home from Maine to California it would entail no change in your buying habits. The same breakfast foods, the same biscuits, the same brand of orange, in the same unvarying quality, may be purchased in every city, town or village throughout the country.

"Every manufacturer and merchant who employs me knows to what extent distribution is maintained and made efficient by my service.

"Bear this in mind: without far-flung distribution and the countless sales in which it results—prices for living necessities in many localities would be well nigh prohibitive. Wide distribution makes sales—opportunities for the manufacturer and merchant—and increased sales mean decreased prices—always.

"Every business man who uses advertising knows that I am his greatest aid to increasing the sale of his products. Every wise buyer who closely follows the advertising columns of his daily newspaper knows that I am the biggest factor in lowering the prices of those products by increasing 'stock turns'.

"The buyer who follows my suggestions finds that the advertised product is SAFE—safe to buy, safe to use. He realizes that the name of a merchant or a manufacturer back of the advertised article is an open profession of quality and a pledge of good faith given by the seller and maker to the buyer. In concrete terms, it is a guarantee of satisfaction.

"Books to read, places to visit, entertainments to enjoy, are part of the educational benefits which reading me confers. Even down to the minutest detail of daily existence, I fulfill the mission of bringing greater comfort and happiness into daily life.

"If you would enjoy life to the fullest; if you want to make your home a better place in which to live; if you seek the greatest return for every dollar you spend—follow faithfully my messages as they appear each day in the advertising columns of your newspaper.

"You will acquire new insight into the fine art of getting the best out of life; you will profit by the broader understanding which you will receive of the intimate relations of your home to the great industrial activities of the world outside."

LONDON.—By The Associated Press.—The appointment of Lord Byng of Vimy as governor general of Canada in succession to the Duke of Devonshire was announced officially Friday.

SENATE KILLS BILL TO CHANGE NAME OF RAIL COMMISSION

Upper House Concurs in Bill to Raise Age Limit for School Attendance

MADISON, Wis.—Change in the name of the railroad commission to the utility commission was refused by the senate Friday morning in killing the first of seven special committee bills calling for elimination and consolidation of boards and commissions. The measure had been passed through the lower house without serious opposition.

Senators objected to the proposed change, on the ground that it would cost the state nearly $10,000 without accomplishing what they considered a useful purpose. It was said that a large part of the commission's work continued to be railroad regulation.

Concurrence was given one Dahl bill increasing the age limit for part time instruction from 16 to 17 years and another calling for appointment of local advisory boards on vocational education, to consult with the local vocational boards in planning courses of instruction.

EXEMPT WIDOWS FROM INCREASED INHERITANCE TAX

MADISON, Wis.—Amendment was made to the Arnold bill doubling inheritance taxes in the assembly Friday morning before given final passage, providing that widows with children will not have to pay the tax a second time.

Claim was made by Assemblyman Matheson that passage of the bill would drive residents out of the state, which brought a statement from Assemblyman Ayers that if they wanted to leave Wisconsin to die the state would be willing to let them go.

The senate is expected to concur in the amendment, giving the state a new inheritance tax which will under present conditions, bring a return of nearly $2,000,000 annually.

BRITISH MINERS REJECT OFFER OF GOVERNMENT

LONDON.—By The Associated Press.—The executive body of the striking coal miners Friday finally rejected the government proposals for a settlement of the coal strike.

DISCHARGE JURY

KNOX, Ind.—The jury trying the case of Cecil Burkett, 11, charged with the murder of Benny Slavin, 7, was discharged by Judge Pentecost in circuit court here Friday when it failed to reach an agreement.

SUBSTITUTE FOR KNOX PEACE PLAN IS REPORTED OUT

WASHINGTON.—The house foreign affairs committee, with democratic members dissenting, voted Friday to report out the Porter resolution for termination of the state of war between the United States and Germany and Austro-Hungary.

Republican members voted solidly to adopt the Porter measure as a substitute for the Knox resolution passed by the senate repealing the declaration of war.

The democrats merely voted present. Chairman Porter announced that the resolution would be presented to the house next week for immediate consideration. A minority report will be filed by committee democrats.

WAR IN UPPER SILESIA

This picture is the first to reach America of the bitter war in Upper Silesia. Korfanty rebels at a street barricade made of wagon, bedsprings and house furnishings. Note machine gunner in foreground. The uniforms are nondescript. This war led to the breach between Britain and France over the right of the Germans to send troops to put down the rebellion.

APPROVE BILL TO CUT DOWN TIME OF NURSES' TRAINING

Nurses to Register With Board of Health Under New Measure

MADISON, Wis.—Cut in the period of training of nurses from three to two years and change in their registration from the medical board to the state board of health was favored by the assembly Friday in engrossing the Jennings bill. The measure has already passed the senate.

Opposition developed to both proposals contained in the bill, because of the belief on the part of some members that it would lower the standards of the profession. Nurses of the state were practically unanimous in asking the change, according to M. L. Hinesman, chairman of the committee on education.

Passage would tend to relieve the shortage of nurses now very evident, he said, and would provide for more careful registration.

The assembly reconsidered its action in killing the $4,000 appropriation to the proposed Rhineland Normal school, and authorized expenditure of this amount for improving the property now owned by the state there.

GLADYS LAWRENCE MAKES BIG HIT

Miss Gladys Lawrence who opened the Rivoli's vaudeville program made a decided hit before her home town friends yesterday at the Rivoli and well she deserved it for her dancing showed that she must have spent months in study and practice. She opened with a toe dance "The Fire Fly," a dance which she originated herself. The little Miss showed much skill and grace in execution in the various movements of this number.

The second number was danced to the music of "Kismet," a lively semi-oriental dance expressing the joy and ecstasy of a care-free maiden. Her costume of gold and changeable green taffeta was in keeping with the numbers.

Other numbers on the bill consisted of the Coleman Sisters a society girl and a Tough, in singing and dancing. The larger one of the sisters is a born comedian and her sister is a splendid foil for her comedy. Powder and Latham eccentric comedians in comedy talk and singing also went over big. The vaudeville program is splendid and will no doubt pack the Fourth street theatre the rest of the week.

PROVISIONS OF RAIL AGREEMENTS SCORED BY ROAD OFFICIAL

Points Out Instances in Which Rules Cost Railways Huge Sums

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Provisions of the national agreements placed in effect during government control, which required "the railroads to allow employees one hour extra pay each week for punching the clock regardless of the number of hours actually worked," cost the railroads $6,445,658 during the first six months of last year, E. T. Whiter, of Philadelphia, chairman of the conference committee of managers, told a senate investigating committee Friday.

An order issued by the director general in July, 1918, guaranteeing to men employed on piece-work "the same minimum hourly rate as those of hourly workers, resulted in a decrease ranging from 10 to 40 per cent in the output of piece-work men," Mr. Whiter said, adding: "This falling off in production became uniformly noticeable when it is known by the piece-workers that they would get no increases but were guaranteed only the minimum hourly rate."

Provisions of the national agreements permitting the employment as car repairers of only those men who have served as apprentices in the car department, or who have had four years' practical experience on car work, Mr. Whiter said, results in a "waste of skill and an unnecessary increase in the cost of such repairs."

"The rule is not consistent or practical," he contended, "and draws a line around car work which prevents the employment of any man who has had experience in similar work."

CO-OP SOCIETY FOR POTATO MARKETING PLANNED IN STATE

MADISON, Wis.—The state market division is working to organize a state co-operative organization for potato selling. There are a number of local organizations of this kind and these have expressed a desire to join a larger body. Wisconsin, says the division of markets, is the only leading potato-producing state in the central west not now having an organization. The growers of South Dakota, recently formed an organization and are now getting ready to market this year's crop. Minnesota, North Dakota, and Michigan are now working out plans to greatly extend their present associations. The co-operative shipping companies of Wisconsin are sure to be the losers if they do not organize as the other states have done. Those co-operatives that have not sent in their signed statements should do so at once in order that the planned general organization meeting can be held and the proposed exchange organized.

CARD OF THANKS
We, the undersigned, wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to the many friends and relatives for their beautiful floral offerings and especially to Rev. STRAWBERRY CROP IN SPARTA AREA DAMAGED BY COLD

Growers Estimate Only Quarter of a Crop Will be Harvested

MADISON, Wis.—The Market Division in a report issued today concerning the prospective fruit crop says: "A carrying amount of damage was done to the fruit crop of the state due to the recent cold weather. In the strawberry section growers report that there will only be twenty-five to thirty percent of a strawberry crop while in the cherry crop was reduced to practically nothing. Slight damage in the peach crop was done to the cherries in the Sparta Bay section but as a whole a normal crop is expected and practically a full crop of apples is expected."

In the Bayfield section no damage to cherries and apples was reported. Around Sparta, considerable damage was done to the strawberry crop and growers made estimates on only fifteen to twenty-five percent of a crop. In the Kickapoo valley section the cherry crop will amount to about ten per cent of normal while the apple crop will be a little less than normal. Growers there report a poor set of the fruit although there was a heavy bloom. A grower from Barrington reports that the strawberry crop was damaged to an extent of fifty per cent and that apples in the low places of the valley are a complete loss while those on the high slopes were undamaged.

Season Lumber for Boxes
Packing boxes made of properly seasoned lumber are found to resist rough handling six to ten times as well as those made of green lumber. The reason, as demonstrated by the Forest Products Laboratory is that the fibers of the moist wood shrink away from the nails as the stock dries, and so lose their grip.

WISCONSIN FIFTH AMONG STATES IN LIVESTOCK VALUE

Decrease of Hundred Million in Livestock Value Reported
by State Bureau

MADISON, Wis.—The first quarterly report of the state Department of Agriculture is just out. The report shows that while Wisconsin retains her place as fifth among the states in the total value of her livestock, that total value now owing to the market falling off in prices is one hundred million dollars less than it was a year ago. Wisconsin farmers had on hand on March 31 this year of the four principal grain crops $1,000,000 as against $1,100,000 a year ago. Land values show only a slight decline from the prices of 1920. The first pure-bred live-stock enumeration ever made in the state shows that there are 121,075 head, 37,810 males and 86,265 females. The Immigration Division of the department has been exceedingly active during the quarter. One of the most useful services is to keep in touch with all new settlers on lands to give them information concerning clearing, seeds and the Federal Farm Loan. To these new settlers 4,000 letters were written during the quarter. The director of the Immigration Division is secretary of the Real Estate Board and has issued during the quarter 2924 brokers' licenses and 455 salesmen's licenses.

DESERTION, CRUELTY CHARGED BY WIVES SEEKING DIVORCES

Two wives filed complaints in divorce actions in circuit court Friday. Mrs. Cleo Hoffman Moody, who was married to Clarence Moody Dec. 27, 1916, seeks a divorce, on the grounds of desertion. She declares her husband left her in December, 1918. Mrs. Ida Schneebarger is suing Joseph Schneebarger for a divorce, charging cruel, sultry and brutal treatment. They were married Dec. 13, 1914.

HEYDLER SUGGESTS NEW BALL GIVES THE HEAVY HITTING

Says Home Run Epidemic is Due to Use of More Compact Sphere

NEW YORK.—President John A. Heydler of the National League, has set forth a number of possible reasons for the unusual amount of heavy hitting in the major leagues this season, but he does not claim that any of them is the right one. "I have yet failed to find a concrete reason for the deluge of home runs and basehits," he said. "I think that the ball itself enters into the problem, although the makers have stated repeatedly that its construction does not differ materially from that of 1920. "I have noticed that the hide covering the ball appears to be stretched tighter and the thread used in sewing the seams is drawn so tightly that it does not protrude over the cover. "This makes for a more solid and harder ball which, when hit cleanly, is certain to travel faster and to a greater distance than would be the case with a more loosely packed ball. It also gives the pitcher less opportunity to secure a satisfactory grip on the ball. "Still another reason is probably the constant calling for new balls. This results in the pitchers being obliged to constantly handle new balls with their smooth, glossy surface which cannot be gripped or curved with the same effectiveness as used and roughened balls."

FARM, STORE AND BANK UNITE FOR ILLINOIS COME-BACK

Get Together to Help Each Other
Back to Reconstructive
Sanity

CHICAGO.—Farmers, merchants and bankers of Illinois have banded together to help each other back to a "reconstructive sanity."

The farmers—110,000 of them—have backed their chief spokesman, George A. Fox, treasurer, to:

First: Adopt a platform of economy and buy not what they want, but what they need.

Second: Work out a plan of collective buying and selling.

Third: Broaden their marketing facilities.

Fourth: Take steps to control their surplus and thereby prevent oversupply.

The bankers headed by William C. White, president of the State Banking Association, have expressed their willingness to co-operate to this extent:

By assisting the farmers with loans on necessities.

By giving reasonable time on payments.

By swinging their support to the local community instead of centering on business removed from the state.

The manufacturers whose attitude is reflected by their representative, Professor Perry Greeley Holden, director in the agricultural extension department of the International Harvester Company, have gone on record to:

First: Emphasize to the bankers just how important the farmer is to general business prosperity.

Second: To be patient in demanding payment on loans made for farm implements.

Third: Extend educational help along the lines of business economy and efficiency.

WANTED: 10,000 MEN TO TAKE VACATION AT UNCLE SAM'S EXPENSE

Want to spend 30 glorious days this summer as the guest of the United States war department, with every expense paid?

Want a new khaki uniform, excellent food and living accommodations, medical and dental treatment—all free?

In short, do you want to be a millionaire?

If you do, here is the chance: Congress has erected a citizens' military training camp in each of nine different states. Operating under the auspices of the war department, these camps constitute part of a national system of training for the national defense.

It is planned to bring together young men of all types, both native and foreign born, to develop closer national and social unity; to teach the privileges, duties and responsibilities of American citizenship; and while teaching them, to give them a thoroughly good time.

The war department plans to show the public that camp instruction during 30 days this summer will not only be to the liking of younger brothers, but that it will develop them physically, mentally and morally.

The camps are the direct outgrowth of the Plattburg, New York, camps of 1913-14-15. Now, as then, the government announces that it is a patriotic privilege to train in these camps.

A certificate of character is necessary. This may be given the applicant by a schoolmaster, clergyman, priest or rabbi. Only physically fit young men will be accepted and they must have passed their sixteenth birthday. The age limit is 35.

Applicants must have average general intelligence, but no educational qualifications are prescribed or required.

Each candidate must file a certificate from a qualified physician setting forth that his health and strength are adequate.

Candidates will be required to submit to vaccination unless they can present a doctor's certificate showing that such vaccination and inoculation has been administered within the last three years.

Ten thousand young men are expected this year. The course will be known as the "Red Course." $700,000 EAU CLAIRE HOSTELRY IS OPENED

EAU CLAIRE—The Eau Claire, this city's newest hotel, opened its doors to the public Wednesday morning and was accorded a liberal first day's patronage.

The new hostelry is one of the very finest in the northwest, and is the latest word in hotel construction and equipment. It is a six story structure, replacing the old Eau Claire hotel, which was destroyed by fire in 1918 and which was known for years as Bob Parkinson's. It has 175 rooms, all furnished most elaborately and embodying all the latest conveniences and fittings. It represents an outlay of more than $500,000 and the furnishings provided by the lessees of the hotel, Keller, Harding and Boyd of Fargo, N. D. represent a further outlay of close to $200,000. J. P. Dilley is the manager in charge.

The hotel was built by Eau Claire people who bought stock in the Eau Claire Hotel company. Edward Hutchens of Eau Claire was the engineer in charge of the architectural work and generally supervised the construction work.

On Tuesday the hotel was thrown open for public inspection and thousands of people were shown through the building by guides. At night another public reception was held, followed by a dance in the banquet hall.

WEALTHY NEGRESS DECLARES SHE'S ILL BY VODOO SPELL

Millions in Oil Lands

DALLAS, Texas—Lilly Williams, negro woman, whom the supreme court of Louisville recently awarded oil lands in Louisville valued at $7,000,000, is suffering from a serious nervous disease, according to emergency hospital physicians.

In her humble cottage on Hill avenue she complained a voodoo doctor has cast a spell over her and that she is unable to overcome his superhuman power.

Physicians declare she barks like a dog and snaps at visitors.

The woman declares the spell has been cast by white lawyers who are conspiring to beat her out of her fortune in oil.

The woman's case is now reaching the last stages of litigation, the winning of which will make her by far the richest negro in the world.

SEE IMPROVEMENT IN U. S. BUSINESS

Federal Reserve Report Is Optimistic,
But Export Trade Is Slow

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The federal reserve board's review of general business and financial conditions throughout the country during May declares that slow but generally retarded recovery in production and distribution has been in progress during the last month. The board finds that what appears to be a definite turn for the better has been taken by some branches of domestic industry, but that foreign trade is still arrested and depressed.

"The more helpful attitude which showed itself among business men during April has continued," the board declares, "and in some industries is preparing the way for active development. Gains made during the preceding month or two have been generally retained, reaction being only sporadic."

Nearer to Balance.

Foreign trade continues its movement toward a more nearly equal balance of imports and exports. There has been a further falling off in our foreign shipments and some increase in receipts from abroad the figures being especially noteworthy, when stated as physical volumes of goods. Failure to recover normal industrial conditions in foreign countries and special cause of trade impediment such as the British coal strike have hampered progress, while disturbed exchange and inadequate financial facilities have made resumption of activity a matter of special difficulty in some directions.

Readjustment in wages which was given special consideration a month ago has proceeded but has been slow; while adjustment between wages and prices (especially retail prices) is exhibiting special difficulties. Irregularity and lack of uniformity still exists in marked degree over large sections of the retail price field, and qualified observers forecast serious obstacles to the final adjustment of wages to permanent levels, unless retail prices move much faster to their final basis.

Prices Are Settling

"Settling of prices has proceeded in various wholesale lines in accordance with that reflected in less noteworthy average changes; but this process is apparently more truly an evening up or adjustment to a level already reached than it is a new dip, or downward movement, toward generally lower values. Basic commodities have shown ability to hold their own at levels already established. High costs of transportation, to which reference was made a month ago as one of the elements retarding readjustment, continue to produce a restrictive influence and are the subject of active investigation and discussion.

"The uneven character of the business readjustment of the month is illustrated by conditions in the various individual industries. In some of the latter an approach to stabilization has been made. This condition

NEW WORLD RECORD

Lake Erie College lowered one of its seven world records for girls' athletic events, in the recent annual field meet at Painesville, Ohio. Miss Sarah Taylor, Canton, Ohio, student, is shown making the 120-yard low hurdles in 16.15 seconds. The previous girl's world record, also held by Lake Erie College, was 18 seconds.

notably exists in the textile trade and in iron and steel reaction is still progressing.

Labor Market

"The anticipated improvement in the labor market due to the opening of spring agricultural activities has not proved sufficient to absorb surplus resulting from the reduced employment attendant upon present industrial conditions. In the eastern sections of the country as a whole the employment situation has attained some degree of stabilization. Growth of unemployment is therefore, more pronounced in those regions in which industrial readjustment has not been so long in process. Voluntary unemployment, however, has been considerably augmented during the month, as a result of the increase in labor difficulties which has accompanied wage reductions.

Lost By Curiosity

An Irishman and an Englishman were waiting for a train and the Irishman said:

"I will ask you a question and if I cannot answer my own question I will buy the tickets. Then you ask a question and if you cannot answer your own you buy the tickets."

The Englishman agreed to this. Irishman: You see those prairie dog holes out there. How do they dig those holes without leaving any dirt around them?

Englishman: I don't know. That's your question, so answer it yourself.

Irishman: They begin at the bottom and dig up.

Englishman: How the devil do they get at the bottom to begin?

Irishman: That's your question—answer it yourself.

The Englishman bought the tickets.—The Household.

TWO MEN ARE HELD ON STORY OF GIRL

Pair Refuses to Talk When Questioned by Police.

MILWAUKEE—Two men, Sol Levine, 804 Sixth street, and Harry Furst, were arrested late Wednesday afternoon following the alleged midnight attack which almost cost the life of Elizabeth Hubert, 19 years old, 710 Wells street.

According to the story told by the girl, she claims to have been attacked by two men with whom she had been auto riding in the evening. Her life was saved only after desperate measures had been taken by Drs. J. A. Frew, her personal physician, and A. N. Sauer of the Roosevelt hospital.

Tells of Attack

Police say that shortly after the girl had regained consciousness, she told Dr. Frew that she had been attacked by two youths. The doctor, it is alleged, made no report to the police of the matter, saying that he decided to make a personal investigation of the affair.

According to stories said to have been told by the girl to the detectives, she and the girl friend went out with two young men Tuesday night in an automobile belonging to one of the men.

Taken to Hospital

At midnight, her girl friend was taken home and when the Hubert girl asked to be taken home the youths asked to have taken her into a second hand store on Fifth street owned by Levine, where the attack is alleged to have taken place. The girl, said to have been in a hysterical condition, asked to be taken to the hospital where she had formerly been a patient. The youths then complied with her request, it is said and took her to the hospital where she was found on the steps of the institution by Miss Lewena Hansen, night nurse.

FIVE CHIEFS OF AIR MAIL GIVEN OFFICIAL LAY-OFFS

Suspended Following U. S. Inquiry Into Fatal Accidents

CHICAGO—Eugene Majors, superintendent of the Omaha-Cleveland division of the air mail service and five others on Wednesday were suspended.

The suspension comes as a result of an investigation by Charles Clahan, postal inspector, who delivered charges the mail fliers were killed because of faulty planes and carelessness of ground men.

Five pilots have met death in the division in the last few months.

Majors said the charges against him were absurd and said he would be reinstated.

KEARNS OFFERS TO SELL INTEREST IN TITLE FIGHT MOVIES

Offer Taken to Indicate that Dempsey Intends to Win as Quickly as Possible

"PICTURE FIGHT" RUMORS REMOVED BY THE OFFER

Sparring Partners Must Observe Rigid Rules Like Champion

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. — Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey, world's champion heavyweight, announced Friday that he would constitute an offer for the sale of his interest in the motion picture of the Dempsey-Carpentier championship fight.

Kearns' offer to sell the interest in the picture of the Dempsey-Carpentier fight, which is being made by the National Motion Picture Company, is taken to indicate that the champion intends to win as quickly as possible. It further removes foundations for rumors that the contest would be a picture fight in which the contestants would box several rounds in order to make the films lengthy enough to be financially attractive.

Kearns announced that beginning Saturday, when Dempsey resumes his training, all of his sparring partners and camp attendants must observe the same rigid rules observed by the champion.

Dempsey himself is anxious to resume training tomorrow. The inactivity of the last three days has made him irritable. He started to play a game of baseball yesterday but Kearns called him out of the game because he feared the champion might sprain an ankle or otherwise injure himself sliding to bases.

SOLDIERS GROVE PLAYS AT CASHTON ON COMING SUNDAY

CASHTON, Wis. — The local baseball club is scheduled to meet the aggregation from Soldiers Grove here next Sunday afternoon.

While the locals have not yet met this team in the league games to date this season, it is expected that the opener will reveal that the southerners have a strong team. Sims or Keller will probably be found in the box for the visitors, while Shotton will throw for the home team.

Frosh Pull Easy Victory From High School Faculty Profs Defeated 26 To 2

Before a record crowd of spectators, the faculty indoor team of the high school was defeated by the freshmen, champions of the class teams by the lop-sided score of 26 to 2, Wednesday afternoon.

Features of the game were the home run by "Swede" Hanson of the faculty, and the batting rally which was started in the ninth inning by Mead. The pitching of Mr. Butler and Coach Mead was a revelation to the spectators. Mead struck out three men while Butler dropped one at the plate. Christopher of the freshmen, however, was the leading pitcher of the day, fanning out nine men and keeping the hits scattered.

Mr. Scott also showed off to advantage but was ejected from the box because he insisted on pitching in the overhand baseball method. Although the game had to be stopped at intervals to allow Mr. Prottsman to get a drink and Mr. Collage to fix his shoelace, as well as to give "Eddie" Saenger time to adjust his suspenders, it moved along rapidly and was crowded with thrills from start to finish.

TRIALS IN FIELD EVENTS TO OPEN BIG 10 MEET TODAY

Only Six to be Permitted to Qualify in Events for Finals Saturday

CHICAGO, Ill. — Trials in all events and in the quarter and half mile runs open the Western conference track meet Friday. Because of the large fields only six men will be permitted to qualify for the finals tomorrow in each event.

Butler of Michigan is credited with the best time for the quarter mile made by a conference man this spring, his mark being fifty seconds. Yates of Illinois leads the conference half mile runners this spring with 1:58. Wilson of Iowa has made the hundred yard dash in :09 4-5 seconds but half a dozen others are credited with ten seconds flat.

C. Altenberg of Western State Normal of Michigan, a school not in the conference, leaped 23 feet 6 inches in a dual meet with Notre Dame and is expected to give the conference broad jumpers a severe test.

Anderson of Minnesota holds the spring record for the 220-yard low hurdles, with 24 1-5.

The trials start at 2 o'clock with the quarter-mile scheduled for 4 o'clock and the half mile an hour later. A hard rain last night slowed up the track somewhat, although fair and cool weather was the forecast early today.

But s'pose those feminine ears that are to appear once more this spring see their shadow? — Indianapolis News.

LA CROSSE TEAM AT CALEDONIA SUNDAY FACES CUB PITCHER

The La Crosse baseball team journeyed to Caledonia for a contest with the Gophers of that city.

It is announced that the local batsmen will face Yaeger former cub hurler of the Chicago Cubs, who has been secured by the Caledonia aggregation for the year. While no announcement has as yet been made, it is expected that the local pitching staff will be recruited for the game with the Gophers.

Caledonia was to have appeared against the Nelson's last Sunday but were detained on account of the poor condition of the roads.

FRENCH TENNIS TEAM TO SAIL FOR U. S. JULY 23

NEW YORK. — The French Davis cup lawn tennis team, accompanied by Mlle. Lenglen, world's woman champion, will sail for the United States, July 23. Word to this effect was received today.

The French team probably will meet Japanese players in a Davis cup preliminary at Chicago. Mlle. Lenglen will compete in special exhibition and tournament play as well as in the women's national championships. She also may participate in the national mixed doubles play with a member of the French team.

PIRATES BLANKED BY NEW YORK, 7-0

Cincy Raps Goodwin Out of the Box and Takes Free Hitting Contest, 8 to 5

PITTSBURGH, Pa. — The New York Giants outclassed the Pittsburgh Pirates on Thursday, winning the game by a score of 7 to 0. Neft was slightly unsteady at times, but tightened up with men on bases. The Giants hammered Zinn off the mound in the eighth, and kept up the heavy batting on Carlson in the same inning and in the ninth. Score: New York 010 000 051—7 Pittsburgh 000 000 000—0 Batteries: Neft and Smith; Carlson, Zinn and Schmidt.

Reds, 8; Cards, 5

CINCINNATI, Ohio. — Cincinnati batted Goodwin out of the box in two innings, held the lead through a free hitting game and won from St. Louis on Thursday, 8 to 5. Duncan in the fifth inning drove the ball over the left field wall, the first time this feat has been accomplished in the present park. Score: Cincinnati 010 110 020—8 St. Louis 130 030 01x—5 Batteries: Shorrel, Riviere, North, Schupp, Goodwin and Dilhoefer, Clemens.

JACK GOLDBERG MAKES HIT WITH FRENCH CHAMPION

MANHASSET, N. Y. — Although he received a good bit of punishment at the hands of Georges Carpentier last Wednesday, Jack Goldberg, the Panama welterweight, made a hit with the Frenchman as a sparring partner. Georges likes Jack's speed and pep, so he will do two fast rounds with him Friday afternoon.

Carpentier is also slated for two rounds with Paul Tournier, after lunch with the customary two hours' road joggling in the forenoon.

COBB'S HOME RUN WINS FOR TIGERS

Wallop by Ty in the Tenth Frame Breaks Tie and Gives Detroit Victory

PHILADELPHIA — Manager Cobb's home run on Thursday won Detroit's first game here this season in the tenth inning, 5 to 4. Philadelphia's early lead was offset by loose playing behind Keefe's effective pitching in the sixth and seventh.

Bush beat out a single to deep short with two out in the tenth, then Welch tried to catch Cobb's low liner and it bounced past him. C. Walker opened the local half with a home run drive into the left field bleachers.

Hollins relieved Oldham at this point and retired the side. Score: Detroit 000 002 100 2—5 Philadelphia 000 110 001 1—4 Batteries: Oldham, Halling and Bassler; Hasty, Keefe and Perkins.

Yanks 7; Browns 2

NEW YORK. — The Yankees hammered Urban Shocker for seven runs in five innings here on Thursday, defeating St. Louis 7 to 2. Pipp got a home run with two on bases in the first inning, while Shawkey surprised the fans and himself by pulling out a circuit hit in the second, with Schang aboard, Shawkey was in good form. Score: New York 001 001 000—7 St. Louis 220 020 000—2 Batteries: Deberry, Byrne, Schockler and Collins; Shukey and Schang.

Indians 8; Red Sox 4

BOSTON. — Cleveland took the first game of its series here from Boston 8 to 4 on Thursday. Uble and Gardner leading in the onslaught on three Boston pitchers. Scott's playing was Boston's leading feature. Score: Cleveland 130 200 110—8 Boston 000 120 100—4 Batteries: Uble and Thomas; Neitzke, Myers and Walters.

Senators 7; Sox 2

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Washington solved Kerr for twelve hits, twice as many as Courtney yielded to Chicago, and the locals easily won the first of a five game series, 7 to 2. Score: Washington 010 000 010—7 Chicago 000 040 03x—2 Batteries: Kerr and Yarnan; Courtney and Charnity.

Best "Get-Rich-Quick" Scheme

There is no better guarantee to success than just plain honest-to-goodness work. After an article has won a definite market, new articles have to earn their right to even a place in competition. It's this constant production of the worth-while thing that puts both man and his business on the commercial map. There are all sorts of attractions to the contrary, but there is no get-rich-quick scheme that can take the place of honest, consistent, persistent efforts. — Exchange.

NELSONS HAVE TWO DATES WITH UNION GIANTS NEXT WEEK

Colored Aggregation of Chicago to Come Here for Games Thursday and Friday

VISITORS TO STAGE CIRCUS SHADOW GAME

Movies to be Taken of Sunday Game With Prairie du Chien

La Crosse's baseball fans will be given a treat next Thursday and Friday afternoons when Gilkerson's Giants, a colored team from Chicago, come here for two games with the Nelson Clothing company team.

The colored team played at Viroqua last Wednesday afternoon against the fast aggregation representing that city. Viroqua was defeated 7 to 0. Officials of the Nelson team witnessed the game at Viroqua and at the same time made arrangements with the colored boys for two engagements here.

Outside of putting on one of the prettiest exhibitions of the national game ever seen in this city, the dark aggregation stage a shadow game, that is worth the price of admission to any circus.

That the team has a wonderful makeup is evidenced by the fact that out of 115 games played during last season, 91 were won, 20 lost and 4 tied. The team did not experience a single shutout. The appearance of the colored team here next Thursday and Friday is expected to be a big drawing card from all around this section.

The Nelson Clothing company team will meet the Prairie du Chien team here Sunday afternoon. It was announced that movies of the stands and the game will be taken.

BROADWAY PLAY HIT IS PRODUCED BY FARM SCHOOL

"Arrival of Kitty" is Presented to Packed Theater at Onalaska

With the presentation of the "Arrival of Kitty," one of Norman Lee Swartout's best productions, and one of Broadway's biggest hits, the La Crosse County Agricultural School staged what is probably one of the most successful light comedies of the season Tuesday evening at the Crystal theater at Onalaska.

The scene is laid in the Catskills of New York at the "Haleyon House," a summer hotel, left by the owner for a few days in the charge of "Tina," the bell boy and Sam the negro porter. With the coming of one William Winkler, a typical New Yorker, his maiden sister "Aunt Jane," and their attractive niece Jane, events crowd each other and complications ensue, heightened only by the advent of Bobby Baxter, the ill-favored lover of Jane, Benjamin Moore, the typical bachelor, who by the terms of her father's will, must marry Jane, and lastly the one, upon whose arrival the gratifying conclusion of the plot is based—Kitty Benders, prominent New York actress and not unwilling recipient of the affections, and as it develops, no little of the income of William Winkler.

Acting is Praised

The individual interpretation of the various roles was especially praiseworthy in particular the work of the four female characters. As Kitty Benders, New York actress and Broadway star, Miss Esther Amesou, displayed exceptional ability in the manner in which she carried off her part.

Miss Beatrice Peterson as the naive ingenue showed remarkable interpretative powers in her characterization which would have done credit to one of far greater experience in theatricals. Miss Ida Staff, as Aunt Jane, and Miss Laura Shelden as Susette, won the plaudits of the audience by their talented characterization of two difficult parts.

Lionel Higgins as William Winkler and Willard Wall as the part of Benjamin Moore gave evidence of no little talent in the important characters they portrayed.

Amesou and Bibby Score

To Alvin Amesou, as the irrepressible Bobbie Baxter, and to Allen Bibby as a typical negro porter, much of the success of the production must be attributed, while Lloyd Larson, cast in the part of "Tina," the elderly proprietor of Haleyon House, deserves great commendation for his versatile handling of one of the leading parts.

The play was produced under the supervision of Mrs. Showers and Mr. Hatch, and to their splendid coaching and selection of the cast the successful presentation of the arrival of Kitty is in a large measure due.

SOLONS BACK DOWN ON STAND AGAINST RIGHTS OF WOMEN

MADISON, Wis.—Backlog water over women's rights has started in the assembly as a result of refusal to that body to engross a bill Thursday calling for exemption of women from jury service.

The influence of the new voters is expected to be behind this new stand in contradiction to previous action voting to refuse jury service to women.

A general stand will be taken on the question of extending equality when the senate committee bill giving women the same rights with men in all particulars, except in making contracts, reaches the lower house next week. It is expected that there will then be some winning from the position assumed several weeks ago against extension of any new privileges.

A Lower Pitch

She sang and she sang: "I will hang my harp on a willow tree, I will hang my harp on a willow tree," each time breaking on the high note.

Finally the patient father from the next room ventured: "Better hang it on a lower branch, Liz."—Ladies' Home Journal.

MAJESTIC

For the last half of this week the Majestic has the best vaudeville program of the season. "The Three Keltons" in "An Outburst of Music, Dance and Comedy" present the classic act that has been seen in this city for a long time. Miss Peet Kelton made a wonderful hit with her fascinating imitations of Charlie Chaplin and Fricco, the jazz dancer. She also proved herself an artist on the trombone, drums and traps.

Howard Nichols showed us several new things in juggling such as juggling seven hoops at one time and spinning two hoops balancing two hoops and juggling five hoops at the same time.

RIVOLI

Many of James Oliver Curwood's famous novels have reached the screen; many of them have been the most successful photo-dramas of their time. But none of them has reached the silver-sheet with the breadth of human appeal, heart interest and suspense which characterizes "Isobel or, The Trail's End," an Edwin Carewe production, which features House Peters and Jane Novak.

This thrilling romance of the Northwest, presented yesterday at the Rivoli theater, relates one of the most compelling romances it has been the fortune of this writer to witness.

ARTISTIC VS. JAZZ

In "POOR RELATIONS" Florence Vidor and Zasu Pitts are seen in excellent characterizations in "Poor Relations," the Broadway production released by Robertson-Cole. Miss Vidor, who played the lead in "The Other Half," a recent Broadway picture, and Miss Pitts, who scored heavily as "The Jazz Kid" in the same production, have sharply contrasted roles in "Poor Relations" that give them splendid opportunities for their strongly individualized talents.

"Poor Relations" is the attraction at the Majestic for today and Saturday.

BEBE DANIELS—STRAND

Bebe Daniels, Realart star, says she doesn't mind playing "good little bad girl" roles, but they are pretty hard on silk stockings, inasmuch as she is being constantly required to climb up and down trellises, in and out of windows, and to do other Tom-boy stunts in leaving with her reckless roles. In "Ducks and Drakes" at the Strand today, the poor girl was just in and out of windows, up and down trellises, up on cupboard shelves and down off steep roofs from beginning to end of the picture, and she says the stockings she ruined during the filming of this sprightly comedy almost totaled an amount equal to her salary.

SHIRLEY MASON—CASINO

One of the most interesting and entertaining photo-plays of the year is on display at the Casino today, where Shirley Mason in "The Mother Heart" is closing a two-day run.

"The Mother Heart" is a story about a family in dire distress, with the father compelled to steal enough food to appease the family hunger and sentenced to a term in prison for his trespass. During the father's incarceration the mother, bowed with shame, dies, and her place is taken by a young daughter—admirably portrayed by Shirley Mason—who mothers the baby and also looks after the welfare of an older sister of the butterfly type. The older sister being adopted into a wealthy family, suffers greatly from the embarrassment of having poor relations and in the

SCION OF WEALTH HELD AS FORGER

Alleged Convict, Lawyer, Author and Aristocrat is Sent to Cell

MILWAUKEE.—Despite his boast that he can "spot" a detective or newspaper man at a distance of several hundred feet, Charles F. Beale, alias McCauley, 39 years old, author, lawyer, university graduate and scion of a wealthy New York family, is being held in a cell at central police headquarters.

Beale, according to Capt. Harry McGroarty of the detective bureau, came to Milwaukee a week ago and obtained employment as an agent for the Merchants' Life and Casualty Insurance company.

Three days later, it is alleged, he presented to the manager an application for a life insurance policy from a prominent business man. He also turned in a check for $120, the first payment.

Called Forgeries

He was given the company's check for $30 as his commission.

On Saturday, officers of the company found that the application and check were forgeries, it is alleged.

Questioned at the detective bureau, Beale is alleged to have admitted he is wanted by the authorities of San Quentin penitentiary in California, for violating his parole.

Heidelberg Graduate

He is said to have declared he was released in 1918 after serving several years of an indeterminate sentence of from one to fourteen years for forgery.

According to his story he is a graduate of Heidelberg university in Germany and of the San Quentin penitentiary law school.

"I can usually spot a newspaperman or detective a block away," but I guess I wasn't on my guard Tuesday night," he told reporters at police headquarters.

He will be held at the station for the California authorities.

UNDER THE CAPITOL DOME

Odds and Ends of State Affairs by William J. Anderson

MADISON, Wis.—Next month, occurs the annual election by the board of control of the principal officials in the various state charitable and penal institutions. It has been the policy of the board for a number of years to make no changes where the officials were filling their positions with reasonable efficiency. There are not likely, therefore, to be any changes this year. Owing to the appointment of Warden Town as a member of the state board of control a new warden for the state prison will be named, but this is likely to be the only change made.

What is the financial condition of Wisconsin as shown by the returns from the last call for reports from state banks by the commissioner of banking? So far as the soundness of the banks is concerned the returns make a very satisfactory showing. From the standpoint of the banks themselves the showing is not so good. This is to say, the banks are not such money-making institutions as they were two years ago. There has been a material falling off in deposits in the past three months, showing that merchants and others have found it necessary to draw on their reserves. There is also a falling off also in savings deposits for the same reason. Farmers have been hit heavily by the steady decline in prices of agricultural products. But the banks of the state were never in so good a condition as now to weather easily a falling off in business.

J. A. Becker, joint statistician for the state department of agriculture and the United States department, reports that at the beginning of 1921 the pure bred livestock census showed that there were in Wisconsin 110,435, 15,230 males and 39,049 females; of Guernseys, 4,200 males and 8,960 females; of Jerseys, 936 males and 2,332 females; of Brown Swisses, 408 males and 1,009 females; of Ayrshires, 249 males and 955 females; of Shorthorns, 3,408 males and 6,495 females; of Red Polls, 334 males and 821 females.

J. A. Becker, statistician for the state and federal departments of agriculture, says: "Wisconsin farmers market only a small percentage of their crops as such and it is estimated that they have over country roads annually about 1,954,000 tons of nine principal crops (corn, wheat, oats, barley, rye, flaxseed, tobacco, potatoes and hay). This is an average of 22 tons per 100 acres of these crops. It must be remembered that the bulk of Wisconsin's farm production is marketed in the form of livestock products. The tonnage of marketed milk and cream alone will equal several times the tonnage of the above crops."

Some interesting sparring between the governor and the attorney general took place last week over the Matheson dry bill. The governor asked the attorney general for an opinion on several provisions of the bill. It was clear from the attorney general's reply that he didn't propose to take from the governor's shoulders any of the responsibility for the passage or killing of the bill. He cleverly referred the governor to an opinion by himself when attorney general covering in the (then) Matheson bill the same point he inquired about in the Matheson measure. To another question of the governor's as to what certain words mean, the attorney general recall down upon his head the active and, latterly, very effective force of the dry supporters.

Assemblyman Dahl succeeded in tacking on his surtax amendment to the new teachers' retirement bill, which now goes back to the senate for concurrence in the amendment. Should the senate refuse to endorse the surtax feature, which proposes to raise the million a year required by the bill by a surtax on all income above $6,000, it will be necessary for the assembly to recede from its surtax stand. Sentiment for the bill is so strong that it will carry with or without the amendment.

In spite of stiff opposition on the part of the administration's floor leader in the assembly, the anti-profit-sharing bill sponsored by Attorney General Morgan, was sent to engrossment this week in the assembly. The attempt to cut off the appropriation of $10,000 miserably failed. As the law division of the state is very busy all the time to authorize it to prosecute profiteers without providing funds for that purpose would have been a joke.

The Huber bill, known as the labor unemployment bill, which was drawn and sponsored by Prof. John R. Commons of the university, was killed in the senate. The bill proposed a method for compensating workmen during periods of depression and unemployment.

It was not expected that the measure would get through the legislature; it was brought forward to test public sentiment.

After January 1, 1923, all persons desiring to enter the librarian's profession must be certified much as teachers now are. The certification law has passed both houses, and now goes to the governor. The proposed law will not affect librarians in service prior to January 1, 1923. The bill was backed by the State Library association.

The agricultural department's bill requiring the sterilization of skim milk and all by-products of creameries or cheese factories before being returned from the factories, was killed once, but has been revived and will probably become a law. The bill is to aid in the stamping out of bovine tuberculosis. Investigations prove that non-sterilized skim milk, whey or buttermilk from infected cattle will spread tuberculosis among young cattle and hogs.

A good deal of amusement has been caused among legislators and state officials in Madison by the recent efforts of the governor of Illinois to secure a reputation as a trust-buster at the expense of Chief Engineer Hirst of the Wisconsin highway commission. Intimating that Hirst is friendly with the cement trust, the Illinois governor pleads in a letter to Governor Blaine to have Wisconsin join him in smashing the cement trust. Hirst, more notably than any highway engineer in the country, has stood against high priced cement. A year ago because of the cost of cement, he changed the commission's building program. He has always been considered wholly unorthodox as a road engineer because his reiterated policy has been that the chief duty of the highway engineer was to improve the roads which carry traffic, first of all, and not to build business with any state, it would hardly be with the present Illinois state administration.

Beautiful Floors

Beautiful floors contribute a great deal to the creation of artistic and homelike interiors. Old interiors which have become shabby can be completely transformed and made more attractive than ever.

The first essential is a beautiful floor, and beautiful woodwork.

FLOORENE, the durable varnish, will put warmth and life into the painted finishes of your home. It will put a fresh glow on the floors—now life in your furniture and in the woodwork of your rooms.

FLOORENE is the varnish which painters use when they want to give patrons a better job. It is the varnish which the house-owner who likes to execute his or her own ideas, can use with perfect results.

FLOORENE comes ready to apply—and easy to put on, too. It can be cleaned with water and a mop or a damp cloth.

Include FLOORENE in your spring home-cleaning. Tell your painter you want it, or ask the dealer for it.
